

If I think about situations like these,
then it's clear that structures protect us from excesses.

On a personal note:

I made all the animations myself, so
I accept responsibility for their flaws and biases.
Some of the materials come from my life.
*The sound design was made in collaboration with Dylan Aiello, who is my brother.